Exciting news for this month

There is a seat with your name on it

South African Airways has expanded its customer value proposition through the introduction of a Chargeable Advance Seat Reservation system. Customers will now be able to choose where they wish to sit in advance. Whether travelling alone, or in company, we all have our seating preferences. It may be a matter of choosing between an aisle, or window, making sure you are seated with your family, or knowing you can look forward to a little extra legroom. From as little as R50, the choice will be in the hands of SAA's customers.
